

Nebraska's underperforming offense

The Husker's offense was the strength of the team, having to overcome a defense the offense to every other offense and how many points they score vs the number of

